Draft Director of Central Intelligence Directive No. 1/2
Implementation of CIA Support to Departments

(//53; Confidential)

Pursuant to the provisions of paragraph 3 of NSCID No. 1, and for the purpose of implementing CIA support of primary departmental requirements, the following policies and operating procedures are hereby established:

1. Policies

- a. The agencies represented on the Intelligence Advisory Committee are to operate insofar as possible as a system, interrelated and interdependent, and are to be so managed as to achieve coordinated intelligence in the interest of national security.
- b. Such intelligence activities as relate to the national security are to be made stronger, more effective, and more efficient. A weakness developing with respect to any of the agencies is immediately the concern of the responsible intelligence chief. If the weakness will affect the national security, it also becomes the concern of the DCI. In some such cases, the weakness can be corrected by the responsible chief alone; in others, the correction may transcend his ability, in which event the support of the DCI and the IAC may properly be required.

- c. A Congressional or departmental decision to reduce an intelligence activity which relates to the national security cannot remain solely a departmental matter.

2. Procedures

- a. The DCI, after consultation with the responsible department or agency head and the IAC, shall provide appropriate comment in the presentation of departmental budgets for foreign positive intelligence activities to the Bureau and the Congress and, if necessary, to the department or agency concerned when it comes to allocation of its appropriation among the various components of that department or agency. This is to ensure that the Bureau of the Budget, the Congress, and the department or agency, in considering a department appropriation, will have full cognizance of the foreign positive intelligence implications of functions which otherwise might be thought to be exclusively to meet departmental needs.

- b. The DCI shall, in cooperation with the departments or agencies individually or collectively as necessary, define those departmental intelligence activities which are deemed to have foreign positive intelligence implications. The DCI shall be provided sufficiently in advance of the department or agency's presentation to the Bureau and the Congress with the necessary departmental budget data to permit him to provide appropriate comment to the Bureau and the Congress. Upon approval of appropriation by Congress, the recipient department or agency shall make available to the DCI at the earliest possible date the tentative departmental allocation for the intelligence activities in question, in order that the DCI may, if necessary, make an appropriate presentation to the department or agency concerned, including comment on complications other than financial, such as those arising from the imposition of personnel ceilings.
- c. The intelligence organizations, within the limits of their capabilities, shall provide, or procure, such intelligence as may be requested by the Director of Central Intelligence or by one of the other departments or agencies. Where such requests involve additional expenditure of funds, reimbursement following agreement between the heads of the responsible organizations shall be provided in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 686, as follows: by the DCI when the request serves the needs of CIA or the intelligence community; or by another department or agency when its specific needs are served solely by the request. Budget estimates will include provision for such reimbursement.
